

Who is Intelisys?

Intelisys, a ScanSource company, empowers independent agencies with the resources and support they need, operating as an extension of their partners' businesses to deliver an exceptional experience to customers. With the financial strength and industry credibility of ScanSource, a publicly traded company (NASDAQ: SCSC) in the Fortune 1000, Intelisys accelerates the future of IT by providing access to the technology solutions businesses need to support the hybrid workplace of the future.

KEY BENEFITS

- Access to flexible routes to market with nearly 500 best-in-class, vetted suppliers in hardware, software, connectivity, and cloud services
- Centralize your technology procurement and gain access to an experienced support team to handle every stage of the sales process from serviceability, quoting, ordering, contract negotiations, escalations and beyond.
- Leverage certified engineering experts across various technology areas, including AI, CX, security, cloud, mobility and more.
- Receive insight into the latest industry trends and how to leverage technology to position your business for the future
- Guidance on complex business use cases, including application discovery, technology analysis, agnostic solution design, plus supplier, equipment and professional services selection.

For more information about Intelisys, visit Intelisys.com

Intelligent Building Technologies

<https://ibtus.com>

(954)800-5679